DECLINED THE CHALLENGE.

Congressman Crisp Driven Into a Corne by Colonel Dudley. WASHINGTON, March 15th .- In the House, few days ago, Mr. Crisp, of Georgia, who was Chairman of the Committee on Elections under the Cleveland administration, delivered him-self of a very bitter personal attack upon Colonel W. W. Dudley. He characterized him in a very severe manner for his services to the Republican party and said everything he could to smirch the Colonel's reputation.
Yesterday he had an opportunity to confront Colonel Dudley with his innuendoes, but he did not avail himself of it. In fact Colonel Dudley solicited an acceptance from Mr. Crisp of "personal satisfaction," if it suited him.
Mr. Crisp is at the head of the Democratic minority of the House Committee on Elections, which is now considering the Miller contested election case from South Carolina. Colonel Dudley is an attorney for the contestant, and when he arose to address the committee he prefaced his remarks with some observations personal to the gentleman from Georgia. can party and said everything he could to

DAKOTA METHODS.

Newspaper Correspondent Gets Into BISMARCK, March 16th.—A score of the most prominent men in the State, smarting under charges of rascality in connection with the lottery boodle scheme, to-day attempted to wreak their vengeance upon Hamlin, a St. Paul newspaper correspondent, and were held at bay in the Sheridan House lobby with a revolver by big'Alexander McKenzie, who had but a moment before snatched the weapon from Hamlin to save his own life.

When Hamlin, who had made wholesale charges of bribery against nearly all the prominent officials of the State, appeared in the Sheridan House early this morning, McKenzie, who had been bitterly attacked, approached Hamlin, grasped the lapels of his coat and said:

"What did you lie about me and my friends "What did you be about me and my friends for in your paper?"

With this remark he laid his hand upon Ham-lin's shoulder, whereupon the latter drew a re-volver and attempted to shoot. McKenzie grasped the weapon, thrusting his finger under the hammer just in time to prevent its dis-

Hamlin now made a desperate struggle to release himself from the embrace of the stalwart North Dakotan. During the struggle the crowd pressed forward, evidently intending to do violence to Hamlin.

McKenzie wrenehed the revolver from Hamlin's grass; and crowded the young man into a corner. By this time over twenty men, who had seen the performance, were trying to get at Hamlin, but McKenzie turned upon the crowd and warned all to keep back. He would allow no one to assault Hamlin.

Seeing the crowd was determined to be revenged on the correspondent, McKenzie, holdvenged on the correspondent, McKenzie, holding Hamilin's revolver in his hand, said he would shoot the first man that struck a blow—McKenzie protecting the man who a moment before had attempted to kill him, and doing it, too with the year wearon which had some in the control of the control oo, with the very weapon which had been imed at him. A Representative, Stadelman, approached Hamlin, and reminding him that he was one of the men whose character had been assailed, demanded the source of his information.

By this time the crowd was again surging around Hamlin, who, still fearful of violence, said his informative the NAVY YARDS' WORK HOURS.

By the Act of 1869 eight hours was declared to constitute a day's work for employes of the navy yards. Despite the law, in many cases, the officers still continue to make the men work for ten and tweive hours. A bill is now before Congress to pay for the work over time. The prospects at present are good for its passage at an early date. Every California Congressman, it is believed, will support the bill. A large proportion of the back pay is due the men at Valeto.

An Armor-Plate Bending Machine for

Mare Island. HANILTON (O.), March 16th.—An immense armor-plate bending machine, made by the Niles Tool Works for the navy yard at Mare island, Cal., was shipped yesterday over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and Southern Pacific. The machine was loaded upon eleven specially-built and extra heavy flat cars. The specially-built and extra heavy flat cars. The two largest castings weigh respectively 66,400 and 66,200 pounds, and the gross weight of the train was 675,350 pounds.

This train will be run through the entire distance, 3 400 miles, without change, the distance being greater than the entire system of the Canadian Pacific. The whole train will be run on a special boat at San Francisco and taken up the bay, forty miles, to the island.

The freight, which was prepaid by the Niles Tool Works, amounted to a little more than $10,050. $10,5.0.

This is the largest distance any solid freight train ever traveled, and it is the largest shipment of one single machine ever made in the United States. It is expected the train will arrive at San Francisco April 1st.

Yesterday the Commissioners of Emigration took the matter in their hands. When the emigrants from the steamship Aller were being landed none of the four Federal Contract Labor Inspectors were on duty. The result is that the contract laborers are now in the custody of the emigrant efficies and a gang of 250 more bound for the mines in Pennsylvania will in all probability be in the same position to-morrow.

There are four Contract Labor Inspectors employed by the Un ted States Government, and to-day not one of them was to be found at Castle Garden.

The Crevasse Widening.

Vicksburg (Miss.), March 16th.—This evening the crevasse at Raleigh was 1,000 feet or more wide and the ends were caving rapidly. The levee is nearly fifteen feet high, and an immense volume of water is delivered. It may be estimated by the fact that in twenty-four hours, ending this evening, the river has fallen three inches at Vicksburg and four inches at Lake Providence, though rising steadily prior to the crevasse. Providence, though rising steadily prior to the crevasse.

The water from the crevasse will overflow fully one-fourth of East Carroll Parish and the greater part of Tensas and Madison Parishes. The crevasse has excited much consternation in these parishes and the stock is being removed.

The Apaches at Charley Pan's Camp Getting Ugly. Tucson (A. T.). March 16th. - The Star prints the following Globe special: For about two weeks a number of Tonto Apaches at Charley Pan's camp, on the Gila river, two miles from the agency, have been acting sullen. THE RECORDS CAN'T LIE. ignal Observer Barwick Refutes Certain False Statements.

The statement was publicly made at the Frait Growers' Convention in Los Angeles the other day that the winter had been so severe in the Sacramento and other valleys in this part of the State as to dectroy orange trees. It was, of course, a wild assertion; without the slightest foundation, but Signal Observer Barwick of this city furnishes the following data to prove its falsity. He writes to the Record-Union:

As I have read articles in several different papers, including your editorial of a few daysago, in which it has been said that someone in Southern California has been reporting that orange trees; ctc., had been killed by frost this winter in the northern clirus belt, I concluded to search the Signal Service records for the past thirteen winters and lay the facts and figures before the many readers of the Record-Union.

It is a well known fact that Sacramento is cooler in summer and also in winter) than any place in the center of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. Therefore, if the record of temperature for this city shows this to have been a milder winter than usual, and the wettest (but two) in thirteen seasons, it might be hoped and wished that it would lead well-informed citizens of the State to disbelieve such falsity. He writes to the RECORD-UNION: hoped and wished that it would lead well-informed citizens of the State to disbelieve such statements as those referred to—that our past winter was colder than usual. If they did not say it was colder, they said that orange trees were killed, which, if true, would not only make this winter the coldest, but the very coldest ever known since the white man's cabin replaced the tepee of the ignoble red one.

The following table gives the average temperature, highest and lowest temperature, and the total precipitation for each winter, beginning with that of 1877-8 and ending with the one just closed, 1889 90; the average for the thirteen winters, and also for the past thirty-seven winters. The difference between them is not great:

WINTER OF-

verage for thirteen seasons verage precipitation for thirteen seasons 11.11 verage for thirty-seven seasons... Highest in thirty-seven years.
Lowest in thirty-seven years (in 1854 and 1888, January).

89, 31°. In a record of 37 years the past one was warmer than 15 of them, and as warm as 4 of them.

Now, a few words regarding the rainfall for the winter just past. It has been, of course, an unusual precipitation, but not so much so as we have had a number of times in the past forty years. The following are the winters that years. The following are the winters that equaled or exceeded the one just past, which shows 1850 inches: Winter of 1852-53, 1841 inches; 1861-62, 27.94 inches, 1856 67, 20.05 inches; 1867-68, 22.04 inches; 1871-72, 19.47 inches; 1877-78, 18.74 inches; 1850-81, 23.01 inches. There were seven other winters which gave from 13 to upward of 17 inches, which was in excess of the average precipitation of many years. The above shows that out of forty-one winters in sacramento there have been eight which gave between 18 and 28 inches of rain, seven of them being wetter than the past one. It is, therefore, incorrect to say that the past winter was one of unprecedented precipitation, for it was not so, at least in this city, but no doubt when we begin to a cend the gentle incline towards the summit of the Sierras, we would, in all probability, find the snowfall far in excess of what it was ever known to be since accurate records began. THE millennium may now be looked for, with confidence in its near approach, for the St. Louis press congratulates Chicago on her success in the House and resents the suggestion that in the Senate the World's Fair bill may be amended so as to name some other locality. The St. Louis newspapers reply to the proposition, "Chicago or no fair." Really when the two cities lay down the cudgels in this way there is hope for the dawn of universal peace and the dwelling together of the lion and the lamb, with the lamb on the

HEILBRON-PARKE CASE.

Order 2 gainst Judge Campbell. In the Supreme Court on Saturday a decision was filed in the case of Heilbron and others, petitioners, against Campbell, Judge of Fresno county, respondent. It was upon an application for a writ of probibitton restraining Judge Campbell from acting in a certain case. Upon the return of the alternative writ, respondent demurred to the petition and at the same time filed an answer. Argument was had upon the demurrer, but in the decision, which was filed on December 28, 1889. reference was made to certain allegations to overrule the demurrer and give final out there was also an answer put in, the sufficiency of which was not denied, and there was no motion for judgment on the pleadings. The respondent moved to vacate the decision then rendered and to pass on the demurrer directly, and, if overruled, to allow him to file an amended answer, on the ground of surprise. The Court holds that he is entitled to this relief and is to be heard on the merits. The Court further orders that the judgment be vacated and set aside; that the demurrer be overruled; that the amended answer of respondent be filed, and that the cause be placed upon the bank calendar for May term, 1890, at Sacramento, and that until further order the respondent, J. D. Campbell, Judge of the Superior Court of Fresno, be restrained from sitting or acting in the case of Char-otte F. Parke et al. vs. August Heilbron et al., now pending in his Court. The opinion is by Fox, with McFarland, Sharpstein and horaton concurring. A dissenting opin

Get Your Shamrock Sprig-St. Patrick's Day Has Come Again. Irishmen generally will not be likely to orget that this is the festival day of the tutear Saint of Erin. It was an ancient custom to celebrate it in every way that mirth could devise-by feast, dancing and song. On the advent of St. Patrick's birthday the pells of chapels and churches rang out merrily; the piper and harper were careful to play 'St. Patrick's Day in the Morning,' or water cresses, which they offered for sale. The New Schaw, Ingram & Batcher Hardware Company.

To-day an important change is recorded in the history of Sacramento's mercantile California and Nevada. For years past Messrs. A. & A. Heilbron bave conducted an extensive business in the hardware and agricultural implement line.

From the incipiency of its organization, grand ball. the firm have enjoyed a constantly increasing patronage. When it became known that the Huntington-Hopkins Company had contemplated the abandonment of its wholesale department in this city, William Schaw, William Ingram, Jr., and J. H. Batcher, all of whom have held prominent with a view to the formation of a more extended partnership, and all were emphatic in the belief that it would result in a continuation of the business, and greatly enlarge its scope of territory.

To-day the matter will be consummated, and the new firm of Schaw, Ingram, Batcher & Co. organized. This combination is one of the very strongest, comprising, as it does, energy, ability and capital. am very truly yours.

The gentlemen require no introduction to Mrs. P. J. A Sunday Suburban Surprise. The usual domestic serenity of the neighborhood of L and Twenty-third streets was enlivened yesterday afternoon by a startling equestrian incident. Pretty little Nellie Scofield, who resides on L street, between formed the reporter that matters were still Twenty-second and Twenty-third, essayed to initiate herself into the art of horseback riding. Seated man-fashion upon the back of an old white horse, which apparently hadn't energy enough left to get out of a slow walk, even for a bucket of oats, Nellie started off easily and pleasantly, but as the pace d'dn't seem to suit, she urged the horse on, until reaching the alley between L and M.

Here the old "plug" suddenly made a spurt up the narrow avenue that would have done credit to El Rio Rey, firing Nellie off against the fence, as if shot from a catapult. Fortunately no more serious result occurred than a severe shock to her system. The accident was the sensation of the hour out that way.

THE QUESTION OF

The thing to do in Muslin Underwear is to make it so low in price that nobody wants to make her own or anybody else's. This can only be done by organization. Organization means factory work. Like all other business, it is well done and badly done.

Our part is to buy good work. Others may take the bad work; we don't want it. That is the whole of the business of getting good underwearsimple as a b c? Look around among merchants and see if it is!

Mother Hubbard Aprons, wide tucks and deep embroidery, 50 and 75 cents. Aprons of Victoria Lawn, elaborately braided in white, 75 cents. Scrim Aprons in cream, with wide lace trimming, 25 cents.

LARGE, BUT NOT TOO LARGE.

We said the other day that the Spring Millinery Stock is large. It is, but not so large but that we shall be getting in fresh supplies constantly. New things will be coming and going all the time. Fashions change often, and in millinery fashion is everything.

The probability is that from now on, no matter how often visitors may call, there will be something new of interest to see each time.

LONDON, March 16th —Lord Randolph Church-ll in publishing his original protest against the arnell Commission bill says he fails to see how Parnell Commission bill says he fails to see how this and his recent speech can be construed as disloyal to the United party. It seems to him the charge of disloyalty might be more forcibly urged against those who, in spite of every warning, forced upon Parliament a measure which by its history and results, obviously dealt a heavyblow at the cause and the party of the union. He explains that when he sent in his protest the commission till was in embryo, and the Government contemplated abandoning it, or, at least, withdrawing it, if it led to a protracted habitually selfish and sensual, it is practically invested to commend d bare.

But what I would particularly wish to enforce on this occasion is the fact that it is only as the moral meaning of any great religious observance comes to be understood that it becomes of any real usefulness to the worshiper. It may be difficult to always substantiate the facts, but I believe that the great forms and ceremonies, customs and practices of the church, grew out of the truth. Methinks if he were to rise to day he would say, in Luther's language, I pray you leave my name alone. Who is Luther? Call not yourselves Lutherans, but Christians. That all of God's professed followers ought to toil for this end, thus hastening the day when Christ's prayer may be answered:

That they all may be one, even as thou Father art in me and I in thee; that they all may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me.'— it must be so to us. I would also insist that we are Christians by inheritance and tradition; by the holiest memories that hallow the past; the holiest associations FULL WEIGHT that enrich the present, the most inspiring imaginations that adorn the future of our hopes. The type of our faith, the law of its growth is Christian, and discriminates us as a people intellectually, politically and religiously from any other nation or race, just as the fact of the parallel veins and pattern of threes discriminates the hly from the rose with its branching veins and pattern of fives. If we elect to continue Christian forms and put reason into them, that is only what others of our fellow-Christians CREAM are tremblingly attempting to do, and so meeting somewhat the demand of the time evinced by the spirit of the age. "And then a Lenten season should be no BAKING paltry forty days of the affluent year. "This interpretation of the meaning of Lent should be placed uppermost in the general observance of the season which I would be willing to institute as morally helpful to us all. There is no taint of superstition in the proposition and but little of asceticism, although a leaning toward asceticism is a fundamental trait in much of human nature, and therefore must be respected. I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River, Dec. 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my system, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison. John Conway, London, O. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed
